

Table of Contents

Medieval Worlds 4: The Genetic Challenge to Medieval History and Archaeology

Editor's Introduction

Walter Pohl

2

Why Archaeologists, Historians and Geneticists Should Work Together – and How

Stefanie Samida and Jürgen Feuchter

5

New Questions Instead of Old Answers: Archaeological Expectations of aDNA Analysis

Sebastian Brather

22

Archaeological Research on Migration as a Multidisciplinary Challenge

Stefan Burmeister

42

Mapping European Population Movement through Genomic Research

Patrick Geary and Krishna Veeramah

65

Genetizing Bantu: Historical Insight or Historical Trilemma?

Manfred K. H. Eggert

79

With vikingr into the Identity Trap: When Historiographical Actors Get a Life of Their Own

Kerstin P. Hofmann

91

Genetic History and Identity: The Case of Turkey

Celine Wawruschka

123